

Join us for a special, live podcast recording of 'Sovereign Talks'

This month, Spotify continues to lift up and honor API creators around the globe. On May 18, we're headed to South Carolina to catch up with "Sovereign Talks" Host A.J. Arellano, our first partner of the Making Space program. This live-recorded episode will share what it means to lift up your community as a queer, API creator and how we can all rise together.

Swing by for the meaningful conversation. Stay for the Filipino-inspired food and drinks. We can't wait to see you there!
